

German Forces Fall Back All Along the Line According to London Reports

ADVANTAGE OF ALLIES PUSHED TO UTTERMOST.

Stern Pursuit of the Fugitives on the Broadest Scale Known in Warfare.

Except for the Army that Has Been Attacking Verdun, the Kaiser's Legions Have Left or Are Trying to Get Out of France—Gen. Von Kluck and His Reinforcements May Have Formed a Junction.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 14, 10:10 p.m.—Except for the army which has been attacking Verdun, the German forces in France have fallen back all along the line, according to the French official report issued this afternoon.

From Nancy to Vosges they have withdrawn from French territory, while on the extreme right, Gen. Von Kluck and Gen. Von Buelow continue to retreat to the northeast before the French and British, even giving up their defensive position on the river Aisne between Compiègne and Soissons.

Further west, the German detachments that held the line have moved northeastward to try to rejoin the German army of the right at St. Quentin. It is possible that all the Germans in Northern France have done likewise; otherwise they would be in danger of being cut off in the center.

Another defensive position, behind Rheims, has been given up and in the Argonne region a general retreat is taking place toward the forest of Belouze and Triant.

The allies are pushing their advantage and doing their utmost to turn the retreat into a disaster by a stern pursuit on perhaps the broadest scale yet known to war. On the right they are in good position to continue the offensive, if the men and horses are not too tired for further effort. They are based on a strong line running from the Marne to the fortresses through the hilly country south of Argonne.

While the allied left, composed largely of fresh troops with a heavy force of cavalry under Gen. Pau, is wheeling around so as to drive Gen. Von Kluck and Gen. Buelow towards Arras and Luxembourg, Gen. Pau's army by a few more marches by La Fere and Laon might cut communications between the retreating Germans and Belgium.

The British who yesterday took nearly all the crossings on the river Aisne and captured many prisoners are now north of that river and are pushing the attack that would assist in forcing the Germans to evacuate Rheims. The center somewhere between Chalons and Rheims, is making an effort to recapture the latter city, which would be one of the most popular victories that could be announced to Frenchmen.

Should these movements be crowned with success and Laon and Rheims again fall into the hands of the allies, the Germans would have only the line of communication with Germany—through Bethel—and even that might be cut.

Gen. Von Kluck, however, is looking for reinforcements from Belgium, if they have not already reached him, and with these he might make another stand against his relentless pursuers. The British War Office issued a long dispatch today from Field Marshal Sir John French, covering more completely than the previous summaries the fighting from September 4 to September 10, inclusive, a period of seven days. According to this report, the German retreat to the southeast of Paris is accounted for by Gen. Von Kluck's decision that the British, who had been so heavily engaged in the retreat from the Belgian frontier, could be ignored and that he could proceed with his plans of enveloping the main French army.

The new army which came out from Paris, however, upset this calculation and, with this flank threatened, the German general had to withdraw movement which has been continued up to the present.

Gen. French's report is a high compliment to the later addition to the British army—the flying corps—and he also quotes a letter from the French commander, Gen. Joffre, who congratulated him on the accuracy of the information supplied by the aviators. These men have done well in bomb throwing, but have confined themselves to gathering information about the enemy for the general staff. This is the work that military men always have said would prove of the greatest service in connection with the use of the aeroplane. In what conflicts they have had with German aviators, the British flying men, according to Field Marshal French, "have established individual ascendancy," and he adds, "Something in the direction of mastery of the air has been achieved."

This is particularly gratifying to Britons as England was one of the last to go seriously into the development of aviation, but has been severely criticized for not giving it more encouragement.

FLIGHT OF THE BELGIANS BEFORE GERMAN HOSTS.

The "Fortissimi" of Caesar's Commentaries Scattered Like Leaves in a Gale, According to an Associated Press Correspondent—Priest Forced to Head the Procession to Shield the Invaders.

LONDON, Sept. 14, 5:25 p.m.—Describing the flight of the Belgians during the German advance, a correspondent of the Associated Press who recently arrived here from Belgium, says that the refugees scattered like autumn leaves before the wind. Unaware of the maneuvers of the opposing force, some fled directly toward the scenes of the engagements. Others whirled aimlessly in circles. Many traveled in dilapidated wagons drawn by horses too old, or otherwise unfit for military service. A great majority, however, walked, discarding after a little even their best clothes. As a rule they wore their best clothes.

At Nivelles there was encountered a man who had walked all the way from Charleroi in one day, carrying a small son on his shoulder. When the trouble began he hid with his boy in the cellar of his home. The house proved to be in the path of the artillery fire, and finally the upper part of the building was destroyed by a shell. He scrambled out of the ruins uninjured, only to fall into the hands of German soldiers. They treated him well, except that he was forced to march with other hostages beside the soldiers to prevent sniping at the troops by Belgian citizens.

Rival Policies.

FINAL TEST IN AFRICA OF TWO GREAT POWERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Reports of fighting between the British and German forces in Central Africa today was regarded in diplomatic quarters as having a significance far beyond that of a local struggle in that savage and remote quarter. It is looked upon as a final test of the two rival policies—the German plan of establishing her most extensive colony in East Africa, and the British policy of linking together her vast territory in Southern Africa, extending from Cape Colony, through Rhodesia up to Lake Tanganyika—and her equally large possessions in Northern Africa, extending from Egypt, through the Sudan, down to British East Africa.

One of the reports from Blankenburg, in British Central Africa, tells of the taking of the German station at Langenburg, at the head of Lake Nyasa, in German East Africa. This is the section immediately at issue, and which forms the link between the British possessions of North and South Africa. It lies just south of the British possessions in Uganda, and should its control pass to the British it would complete their continuous chain from the northernmost point of Cape Colony.

NOT A RUSSIAN IN BELGIUM YET.

LONDON, Sept. 14, 11:25 p.m.—The official press bureau issued tonight a denial of the reports that Russian troops have been landed in Belgium.

"There is no truth whatever," says the bureau, "in the rumors that Russian soldiers have landed or passed through Belgium on their way to France or Belgium. The statements that Russian troops are in Belgium or French soil should be discredited."

PEACE MOVEMENT GROWS AS DEATH LISTS INCREASE.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan in Close Touch With the Efforts of Many Influential German-Americans to Bring About an Exchange of Terms Among the Belligerents.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Although no reply had been received tonight from the German government to the inquiry of the United States concerning the attitude of the former toward peace in Europe, administration officials were hopeful that from the informal effort something tangible might soon develop.

That many influential German-Americans are working to bring about some exchange of peace terms has been admitted in official quarters. President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are keeping in close touch with all these efforts. The feeling prevails among administration officials that as the casualty lists grow and the hot sunny days interspersed with deluges of rain, bore the brunt of the fighting, are taking a brief rest in preparation for future movement, which may call for equally great efforts.

CROWN PRINCE'S POSITION.

In the opinion of the best military observers here the German army under command of Crown Prince Frederick William is in a critical position.

The French have driven the German army back to the west of the Argonne, and threaten his line of retreat to the west of the Argonne, and it is felt that he is liable to be surrounded and forced to capitulate. This would result in breaking the German host to two.

The situation before the Crown Prince would be to try to force his way through south of Verdun, a desperate expedient in view of the superior array of forces at this point. A chauffeur who conducted two officers to the front witnessed the siege of a last salvo from these guns. The Germans had taken refuge during the battle of the Marne. It was impossible, he says, to see the front of the enemy and their fire was very damaging. Finally a battery of the famous "75" took position and at the third salvo from these guns the buildings and its dependencies were seen to be on fire. The howling coming from the refinery was audible even in the vicinity of Paris. The Germans jumped from the windows and as they fell they were shot by the infantry. Many were killed and a few escaped, perhaps 200 or 300. The rest perished in the refinery and its outbuildings.

A number of trains arrived at the northern and eastern stations early today, bringing cannon projectiles, ammunition wagons and aeroplanes captured from the enemy. Among the wounded arriving at the eastern station was a German reservist who was in the fighting at Montmirail. He saw a number of German soldiers made prisoners in a field of yellow clover. The forage had been cut in sheaves and when one of the sheaves was seen to move, a German infantryman. A second shot fired into another sheaf brought out another German and a third shot brought out a third, all concealed soldiers. All were easily captured.

TO TAKE ANTWERP WITH SIEGE GUNS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 14, 4:08 p.m.—In a dispatch from Antwerp the correspondent of the Evening News says:

"According to the German commanding officer from Aerschot, who is now in prison here, the Germans firmly believe that the Antwerp forts are no match for their seventeen-inch siege guns, of which, he says, they have fifty-one. The range of these guns is about six miles, and each piece can be fired only twenty times."

"While confessing that the Germans are unable to spare enough men to invest Antwerp, this officer says he believes the siege guns will enable them to take a couple of the forts, thus giving access to the city. As a bombardment would be destructive to Antwerp, such action is not contemplated because its harbor is too valuable an asset for Germany."

ALLIES FOLLOW RETREATING FOE

Main Body of Germans Near-ing Belgian Frontier.

Withdrawal Being Performed With Great Rapidity.

Paris Experts Think Crown Prince Faces Defeat.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Unrelenting pursuit of the rapidly retreating German armies by the British and French forces continued today with extraordinary vigor, according to the French view.

Despite the great numbers composing their various armies which operated together against the allies, the German withdrawing movement is being carried out with great rapidity and cleverness. The main body appears to be approaching the Belgian frontier, while the German left wing seemingly is gaining shelter in German Lorraine.

So far as known the fleeing invaders, who after wonderful forced marches into France, made such a stern attempt to break through the solid lines of the allies defending Paris, have abandoned more than sixty cannon of various calibers, and thirty machine guns, because their exhausted horses were unable to drag them fast enough to keep up even with the foot-soldier infantry. Enormous amounts of ammunition and war stores also were left on the route.

The allies, on the other hand, it is asserted, display signs of fatigue. They are represented as stirred by unexpectedly great victories to such an extent that they are able to keep close on the heels of the retreating enemy, harassing them day and night, cutting off detachments and attempting to intercept between them and the frontier.

It is generally believed here that the German army, which is now in which hundreds of thousands of men are engaged on the western field alone, will take place in German territory, and, according to the military experts, doubtless will endeavor to prevent the German armies, should they succeed in eluding capture, from forming a defensive position near the frontier.

Large bodies of fresh troops are understood to have been forwarded to assist in the pursuit, and many more are ready to share the chase, it is said. Some portions of the allied armies are so close to the German lines that they are hot and sunny days interspersed with deluges of rain, bore the brunt of the fighting, are taking a brief rest in preparation for future movement, which may call for equally great efforts.

While the capture of the Fanning Island Plant is definitely known, the question whether it was done by the Nurnberg or the Leipzig is unsettled.

GENERAL'S STAFF TAKEN PRISONERS.

PARIS, Sept. 14, 7:08 p.m.—A batch of German prisoners composed of a general with his entire staff, and six other officers and 300 men, arrived today at Noisy-le-Sec, five miles northeast of Paris, whence they were sent to the south.

King of Belgium and the President of France Compliment Each Other's Splendid Armies.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 14, 4:10 p.m.—President Poincaré and King Albert have exchanged congratulatory telegrams in a message to the president of the Belgian monarch said:

"The great victory attained by the allies owing to the courage and military genius of their chiefs, fills us with joy. In sending you the warmest congratulations, I am interpreting the feeling of the Belgian nation."

"I heartily thank you for your message of congratulation for the commanders and men of the French army. Our troops are proud to fight beside the valiant Belgian and British armies for civilization and liberty. When the hour of retributive justice strikes, none will forget what your Majesty and the admirable Belgian people have done for the triumph of the common cause."

GERMANS SEIZE CABLE STATION.

LINE TO AUSTRALIA PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept. 14.—Definite news has reached Vancouver that the Germans have captured the Fanning Island cable station. Whether the men who landed on the island on Monday, September 7, were from the cruisers Nurnberg or Leipzig cannot be definitely ascertained.

Communication was broken off so suddenly with the Bamfield (Vancouver Island) end of the cable that the Fanning Island operator was able only to send a message that armed men in uniform had landed and had entered the superintendent's office. Here the message stopped abruptly and the cable has been silent ever since.

Presumably the Germans immediately cut the cables at the shore end and took off the coal and supplies that are maintained on the island for the use of the cable operators.

Whether they took the operators as prisoners of war is also unknown. It is understood that the British admiralty are taking prompt steps to restore communication with Australia and New Zealand. Meanwhile business from Great Britain and elsewhere is being dispatched by the eastern route, through Persia, further India and by transcontinental telegraph across Australia.

JOFFRE AS A HUSSAR.

There's Some Dash to Him. According to Laispé, Who Knows the French General Personally.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BORDEAUX, Sept. 14, 2:30 p.m.—"Gen. Joffre must have smiled when he was called 'Fabius Cunctator,'" writes Louis Laispé, a personal friend of the commander-in-chief of the French army, in a morning paper.

"He is really more the dashing Hussar than the colonel, 'Delayer,' as he is called. He is a man of pure intelligence—intelligence which knows how to bend it to discipline and reason or allow it full rein, as circumstances dictate."

To tell the truth, when Gen. Joffre accepted the supreme command his friends were rather apprehensive. He was so optimistic, so decided. He is one of the most ardent and fervent advocates of "revenge." He has always had the most implicit confidence in the valor of the French officers and troops. He was always certain of their victory. (BY A. P. MARY WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Dinner of the House opposing the war tax on freight transportation had a call issued today for a caucus on the subject tonight. Representative Underwood, who has been a leader in the opposition to the war tax, hopes to delay consideration of the question, at least until the President has had an opportunity to weigh the situation in the recent developments.

Underwood will return to the House tomorrow and it is expected that he will advise the President to him that it will be impossible to pass a freight tax through the House unless he gives the proposed bill the endorsement and support of the emergency demands of the House. Should the President accept the bill, it is expected that the House will pass it by a large majority.

cut off and surrounded. After a desperate resistance it was decided to go on fighting to the end. Finally the non-commissioned officer and one man only were left, both of them being wounded.

"The Germans came up and shouted to them 'Lay down your arms.' The German commander, however, signalled to them to keep their arms, and then asked permission to shake hands with the wounded non-commissioned officer, who was carried off on his stretcher with his rifle by his side.

"The arrival of the reinforcements and the continued advance have delighted British troops, who are full of zeal and anxious to press on.

"One of the features of the campaign on our side has been the success obtained by the Royal Flying Corps. In regard to the collection of information, it is impossible either to award too much praise to our aviators for the way they have carried out their duties, or to overestimate the value of the intelligence collected more particularly during the recent advance.

"In due course certain examples of what has been effected may be specified and the far-reaching nature of the results fully explained, but that time has not yet arrived. That the services of our flying corps, which has really been on trial, are fully appreciated by our allies is shown by the following message from the commander-in-chief of the French armies received September 9 by Field Marshal Lord Kitchener:

"Please express most particularly to Marshal French my thanks for the service rendered every day by the flying corps. The precision, exactitude and regularity of the news brought in by its members are evidence of their perfect organization and also of the perfect training of the pilots and the observers."

"To give a rough idea of the amount of work carried out, it is sufficient to mention that during a period of twenty days up to the 10th of September, a daily average of more than nine reconnaissance flights of over 100 miles each has been maintained."

MAINLY ABOUT WAR.

"The constant object of our aviators has been to effect an accurate location of the enemy's forces, and, incidentally, since the operations cover so large an area, of our own units.

"Nevertheless, the tactics adopted for dealing with hostile air craft and to attack them instantly with one or more British machines. This has been so far successful that in five days of fighting the river Marne has been shot while in the air and their machines brought to ground. As a consequence, the British flying corps has succeeded in establishing an individual ascendancy which is as serviceable to us as it is damaging to the enemy."

"How far it is due to this cause, it is not possible at present to ascertain definitely, but the fact remains that the British flying corps has been much less enterprising in their flights. Something in the direction of the mastery of the air already has been gained in principle of the principle that the main object of military aviation is the collection of information.

"Bomb dropping has not been indulged in to any great extent. On one occasion a petrol bomb was successfully exploded in a German bivouac at night, while from a diary found on a dead German cavalry soldier, it has been discovered that a high explosive bomb, thrown at a cavalry column from one of our aeroplanes, struck an ammunition wagon, resulting in an explosion which killed fifteen of the enemy."

SHARE OF BRITISH IN LONG BATTLE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Sept. 14, 7:50 p.m.—The official press bureau issued the following statement this afternoon:

"The following report is compiled from information sent from the headquarters of Field Marshal Sir John French (commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary forces on the continent) under date of September 11. A summary of the operations of the British army in France was published by the War Office on the 10th inst., and on account, stated to be incomplete, of further operations was issued from the bureau on Saturday night, the 12th inst. Today it is possible to give more complete reports of the movements of the British force and of the French armies in immediate touch with it. This account is compiled from data received from the front and carries the operations from the 4th to the 10th of September, both days inclusive.

"It will be remembered that the general position of our troops on Sunday, September 6, was stated to be that of the River Marne, with the French forces in line on our right and left.

"Practically there had been no change since Saturday, September 5, which marked the end of our army's long retirement from the Belgian frontier through Northern France.

"On Friday, September 4, it became apparent that there was an alteration in the advance of almost the whole of the first German army. That army since the battle near Mons on the 23rd of August had been playing its part in a colossal strategic endeavor to create a Sedan for the allies by outflanking and enveloping the left of their whole line so as to encircle and drive both the British and French to the south.

"There was now a change in its objective and it was observed that the German forces opposite the British were beginning to move in a southerly direction instead of continuing southwest on to the capital, leaving a strong rear guard along the line of the River Ourcq (which flows south of and joins the Marne at Lis-sur-Ourcq) to keep off the French sixth army, which by then had been formed and was to the northwest of Paris. They were evidently executing what amounted to a flank march diagonally across our front.

"On Saturday, the fifth, this movement on the part of the Germans was continued and large advance parties crossed the Marne southward at Trilport, Bannermont, La Ferté, Jouarre and Chateau-Thierry. There was considerable fighting with the French fifth army on the French left, which fell back from its position south of the Marne towards the Seine.

"On Sunday large hostile forces crossed the Marne and pushed on through Coulommiers and past the British right further to the east. They were attacked at night by the French fifth army, which captured three villages at the point of bayonets.

"On Monday, September 7, there was a general advance on the part of the allies. In this quarter of the field our forces, which had now been reinforced, pushed on in a northeasterly direction in co-operation with the advance of the French fifth army to the north and of the French sixth army to the eastward, against the German rear guard along the River Ourcq. Possibly weakened by the detachment of troops to the eastern theater of operations and realizing that the action of the French sixth army against the line of Ourcq and the advance of the British plaining their western flanking movement in considerable danger of being taken in the rear and on its right flank, the Germans on this day commenced to retire towards the northeast. This was the first sign that these troops had turned back since their arrival at Mons a fortnight before and from reports received, the order to retreat when so close to Paris was a bitter disappointment. From letters found on dead soldiers there is no doubt there was a general impression among the enemy's troops that they were about to enter Paris.

"On Tuesday, September 8, the German movement northward was continued. Their rear guards on the south of the Marne were being pressed back to that river by our troops and by the French on our right, the latter capturing three villages after a hand-to-hand fight and the infliction of severe loss on the enemy."

The Expected.

LONDON, Sept. 14, 1:12 p.m.—Lord Anquith told the House of Commons today that no official information had reached the Ministry of War concerning the repeated stories that German soldiers had abused the Red Cross flag, killed and maimed the wounded and killed women and children, as had been alleged so often in stories of the battlefields. He added that this subject was under consideration and that an inquiry was being made. He assented to the suggestion made that, with the view of securing greater credence of any reports on the subject which the British government might issue, the American Embassy and Consulate would be communicated with, with the object of getting them to publish the full facts.

LONDON, Sept. 14, 7:50 p.m.—Two young American women who arrived from Berlin Saturday night were given the address of an inexpensive hotel by the American Relief Committee. Instead of going there, they put up at a luxurious hotel and today, according to the committee, appeared at the relief headquarters and presented a hotel bill for $50, requesting that it be paid on their behalf. They also asked to be provided with first-class passage on a steamer to New York, as they swore that they were penniless.

Those who have used S. S. S. marvel at the way it checks blood disease. See a man today with his skin broken out;
see him again in a week or two after using
S. S. S. and he is a wonder to behold, all cleared up, skin healthy, eyes bright, a big smile replaces the droop, and he is able to do his work. What is S. S. S.?
That can accomplish such wonderful results?
First of all it is a natural medicine.
Like milk, eggs and other foods that can not be imitated. S. S. S. gives it to Nature for its power to overcome disease
just as food prevents emaciation. S. S. S.
is not a combination of prescription drugs.
It is a preparation direct from medicinal plants that retains all the virtue potency of what we need, what we must have in the blood to counteract those destructive tendencies that assail us throughout life.
If it were not for our natural secretions to sustain us, aided by such known helps as S. S. S. there would be small chance of any of us surviving childhood.

stitutes peddled off on the unwary. S. S. S.

at a luxurious hotel and today, according to the committee, appeared at the relief headquarters and presented a hotel bill for $50, requesting that it be paid on their behalf. They also asked to be provided with first-class passage on a steamer to New York, as they swore that they were penniless.

The committee felt compelled to pay the hotel bill, but allowed them only $17.50 each daily for living expenses until Saturday, when they will proceed to New York as second-class passengers. This privilege was granted because the young women declared that they were in frail health.

This and similar cases have caused Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the committee, to issue the following statement:

"The American press may be interested to know that they may expect a large number of interviews denouncing this committee upon the arrival of steamers at New York. The committee has made it an inflexible rule that people appealing to them for relief and claiming to be entirely without resources should be sent to the United States in the third class, unless circumstances such as to age or illness or the having of children require first-class passage to New York. When informed of the committee's inflexible rule, which is applied to all Americans impartially, no matter what may be their presumed social standing, they usually tell the committee that they will see to it immediately they arrive in New York that the committee gets blown up in the New York papers."

"Any American who wishes better accommodations than the third class provides, may cable through the committee to his American friends for money and if they advance it, can travel on any scale he pleases, but when they refuse to cable, or declare they are without means of their own, under the committee's inflexible rule, subject only to such exceptions as I have stated, they will be given only third-class fares."

LONDON, Sept. 14, 1:12 p.m.—Lord Anquith told the House of Commons today that no official information had reached the Ministry of War concerning the repeated stories that German soldiers had abused the Red Cross flag, killed and maimed the wounded and killed women and children, as had been alleged so often in stories of the battlefields. He added that this subject was under consideration and that an inquiry was being made. He assented to the suggestion made that, with the view of securing greater credence of any reports on the subject which the British government might issue, the American Embassy and Consulate would be communicated with, with the object of getting them to publish the full facts.

He was a member of the Denver Club and the Country Club of Denver and a prominent Knight Templar.

BONDS STOLEN.
Jewelry Also Taken by Burglars; Mexicans Seen Loitering Near House Are Suspected.
Mexican bonds of the par value of $5000 were stolen from the rooms of H. L. Holmstrom at the Marguerite apartments, No. 415 West Twenty-second street, last night, while the family was absent.

The burglars entered with a pass key and in addition to the bonds, two gold rings and a diamond stick pin were taken.

The crime was reported to the University police when Mr. Holmstrom returned. An investigation is being made on the theory that the intruders knew the bonds were in the house, as two well-dressed Mexicans were seen loitering about the premises earlier in the day.

PROTECTING THE RED CROSS WORK.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE CALLS FOR APPROVAL BY FOREIGN VICE-CONSULS.

At the meeting of the Citizens' Committee yesterday, appointed to have oversight of granting permits to Red Cross societies, a resolution was adopted requiring that all organizations or individuals desiring to collect funds for Red Cross work must present to the committee the endorsement of the Red Cross Society of the nation represented and the approval of the Vice-Consul of the same country.

The German Red Cross Society was given full authority to proceed with its work and to give a concert in the Auditorium on October 4, under the auspices of the German-American Alliance, for the benefit of the fund. This is the only one of the foreign societies that enjoy the endorsements required, and letters will be sent out today requesting all others to present them to the committee.

L. N. Brauer, president of the French Red Cross, was granted endorsement of the committee to hold a lawn fête on his West Adams-street grounds on September 25, for which he guarantees all expenses, the total receipts to go to the French fund. He was, however, requested to file a letter of endorsement from the society of which he is president.

The Belgian society also has an endorsement under consideration, and the representative was asked to offer his credentials at the next meeting of the committee.

A representative of the Daughters of the American Revolution appeared at the meeting, wishing to know what that organization could do to assist in the humanitarian work of relief among the foreign nations. She was told to first make arrangements with the American Red Cross Society and then secure the endorsement of the Citizens' Committee. The entire purpose of the committee is to eliminate all fakers and unauthorized persons from collecting money under cover of the Red Cross activities and appropriating it to their own use.

PEACE ADVOCATES LAY THEIR PLANS.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS AND MAPS PROCEDURE FOR PEACE DAY.
Plans for peace day demonstration were given an impetus yesterday afternoon, when the Executive Committee of the organization met in Trinity Auditorium Hall and outlined some of the procedure necessary to bring results that may have a national application, in the effort to bring about settlement of European difficulties. Rev. Sealeman of Trinity Church presided in the absence of Mayor Rose. Rabbi Hecht suggested a uniform demonstration throughout the United States, but owing to well-advanced plans in a number of large cities, such procedure was deemed impossible. He further advocated the appearance of as many peace advocates as possible, thus impressing on their minds the futility of war and making them peace advocates in decades to come.

Clara Shortridge Foltz, representing the Women's Million Club, was asked to continue that organization in the management of the parade, since this idea came from the women. She announced that a number of clubs and organizations had promised to take part and that there would be no display of any but American flags, even posters with mottoes being barred.

David Starr Jordan, author of "The Waste of War," as principal speaker, was announced. The committee was on program, parade, decoration, courtesy, publicity, resolutions and finance.

Philip H. Goldberg and Ida M. Borely announce the opening for the season Wednesday evening, September 24, 1914. Adults' beginner's class Monday evening, October 5; juvenile beginners' class, Saturday, October 3. All the latest dances will be taught. References required.

FEMALE SLEUTHS TACKLE TARTARS.
ACCOIT ALLEGED SHOPLIFTERS, WHO SCRATCH AND PULL HAIR FREELY.
Four women battling with the fury of Amazons attracted a throng before a department store on Broadway yesterday, which grew to such proportions that patrolmen were necessary to restore order.

Two of the women were accused shoplifters, two were detectives, and the patrolmen who threw themselves into the breach were outnumbered two to one. Mrs. Lucy Beck and Mrs. Lydia Uhrig, operatives for the Harris agency, were in the department store when they saw one of the two women evidently foreigners, take up a pair of shoes. The other put a pair of baby shoes in her bag a few minutes later.

Following the two women to the sidewalk, the detectives informed the two alleged shoplifters that they were under arrest.

Instead of submitting peacefully, they showed fight. To shake off the grasp of their captors the two clawed at the hands of the detectives, and one pulled at the hair of Mrs. Uhrig. Finally Mrs. Uhrig placed a pair of handcuffs, which she carried in her handbag, on the wrists of the woman with whom she had been wrestling.

With the arrival of the two patrolmen at the same time the two prisoners evidently thought resistance useless and capitulated.

In the scuffle both women detectives were scratched. Their hurts were dressed at the Keeling Hospital. The prisoners stoutly refused to give their names and were booked under Jane Doe No. 1 and Jane Doe No. 2.

NEW TRIALS DENIED.
Holding of Lower Court on Rules of Evidence and Rebuke to Witness Upheld.
Holding that it is permissible to accept a confession made by a person charged with a crime, if it appears fairly and clearly that the statements made were voluntary, the District Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed the judgment of Superior Court Judge Dehy of Mono county, in refusing a new trial for Otto J. Hoge, charged with robbery.

It appeared that after the arrest of Hoge, he made a voluntary statement to the officers making no changes in the rule obtained in such evidence, holds the court.

During the trial of Major Vukojevich in Judge Craig's court on a charge of manslaughter, one of the witnesses for the defense used profane language in the court, and was accordingly reprimanded by Judge Craig for his clear contempt. This, among other reasons, was given why the defendant should have a new trial, it being alleged that the remarks of the court were misconstrued. The District Court of Appeals finds no law nor reason behind the grounds, and affirms the judgment that denied Vukojevich a new trial.

Vincent Whitney, a prominent society man of San Francisco, has announced his intention of running for the Mayoralty of that city next year.

Vincent Whitney

player, and socially established for generations, he is one of the most popular of men. Well provided with the world's goods, happily married to an extremely charming woman, and with undoubted abilities and capabilities, he would lend the Mayoralty a distinction which is unusual in municipal affairs.

The secret of his intentions was divulged to a few intimates at the big Del Monte golf tournament, which has just closed, and it was taken up with the keenest enthusiasm. Society on bloc, and the smart Burlingame set in particular, promised their support wholeheartedly.

They call Vincent Whitney the "little giant." He is not very tall, but he has the courage and confidence of the biggest of men, and is large mentally if not physically. He is quite serious on the question of his city's politics and would be called upon to make some very real sacrifices should he be elected to office.

Society and politics are a rare combination in the United States, but in England, where service to one's city or country is a matter of honor, it is no unusual thing to find a peer occupying the position of Mayor (the Duke of Norfolk was Mayor of Westminster, as also was Lord Chelmsford) in one city and the grocer holding the same position in the next. In many ways society in England is more democratic in the best sense than our own.

The fact that Vincent Whitney is so happily married plays no small part in his popularity in the Bay City. It was a thoroughly romantic runaway match of the most ardent kind. Mrs. Whitney is petite, very feminine, dimpled, charming, and holds an enviable position in social ranks.

movement started among the Young Republicans which resulted in a demand for Capt. Fredericks to become the gubernatorial candidate.

Capt. Fredericks will motor down from Los Angeles and will outline his policies in the fight for Governor. A meeting of the County Central Committee has been called by Chairman Goehner for Tuesday, when the candidates of the coming campaign will be present and plans for the campaign in San Diego will be outlined.

HEVNE'S
Helping the Hostess

No matter what time or season of the year it may happen to be, it is always possible to find someone who has an entertainment of some kind on hand—be it a party—a dinner—a wedding—or a reception—just something away from the every-day routine and therefore of a little more than ordinary interest to the parties concerned.

It frequently occurs on these special occasions that it is impossible to get the necessary supplies required for the affair much in advance of the time when they are actually needed, and for this reason, they are oftentimes the source of considerable anxiety on the part of the busy hostess.

Ever mindful of the requirements of our patrons we have instituted a series of Special Service Rules to take proper care of all orders of this nature. These rules have been so arranged that they absolutely insure intact delivery of these special requirements at a previously specified time. The hostess, busy with the details of the occasion, will readily understand how greatly useful this arrangement will prove to her, and how it will avoid entirely any embarrassing situation that might otherwise arise.

MAKE MARQUISE STORM CENTER.

Public Safety Committee to Hear Controversy.

More Ornamental Canopies
Now Forbidden.

Vigorous Protests Will Be Voiced Today.

A storm that has been gathering about the marquis, the ornamental awnings of the city, will break at a meeting of the Public Safety Committee of the City Council at 10 o'clock this morning.

A stop order against the marquis in every form, recently promulgated by the Council, has raised the storm. Protesting against what they term continuous interference with those desiring to make improvements, a number of merchants and property owners will be on hand today to state their views.

The present trouble began about three months ago, although there had been mutterings at various times in the past.

The letter of the ordinances as they stand permits the erection of such canopies as long as they conform to certain limitations, such as that they shall be of fireproof material and shall not extend from the building more than two-thirds of the distance to the curb line.

UNDER JURISDICTION.

Last April the City Attorney gave it as his opinion that the Municipal Art Commission had the right under the charter to approve or disapprove of the design for all marquis. The opinion had been asked for as the consequence of a disposition that had been revealed by holders and architects to ignore the commission's supposed prerogative. The City Attorney held that, because a marquis protruded over the sidewalk and became a sidewalk in city property, the canopy is subject to the commission's critical judgment as to its artistic merit.

Three months ago a certain saloon embellished a garish new marquis with an illuminated brewery sign protruding far out over the sidewalk. Others prepared to follow suit. The protests that arose led the Council and Police Commission to order the sign removed. Somewhat of a squabble resulted, the upshot of the whole thing being that the Council by resolution not only forbade the erection of all illuminated liquor signs on or in front of downtown buildings, but issued a stop order against marquis of every form.

From that day the Public Safety Committee has been besieged with requests to hold a public hearing and set the thing settled.

A particularly vigorous protest against the restrictions imposed by the Council's stop order will be entered today by the Spring-street company, which is erecting the magnificent ten-story Merritt building at Fifth and Broadway.

Appearing before the Council committee will be a representative of Reid Bros., of San Francisco, architects who have been at work for some time on the Bay City especially for the purpose. The plans for the Merritt building call for handsome bronze marquis on both street fronts, but these had to be stricken from the designs before the city would issue a permit.

OTHER PROTESTANTS.

Frederick Noonan of the architectural firm of Frederick Noonan and William Richards, planners of the $1,000,000 J. W. Robinson Company department store at Seventh and Grand, will be on hand to voice a protest against the interference of the city with the carrying out of the plans for that splendid improvement. The Robinson company desires to place marquis over each of its three main street entrances.

R. H. Gage, manager of the Pign's Wholesale Company, will demand to know why the city should not be permitted to have a highly artistic marquis over the entrance to the building, a new store it is installing on Broadway just below Broadway.

The managers of Hamburger's and Bullock's are among the larger business interests that will voice complaints against the stop order and against "unreasonable restrictions" which in the future may deprive them of their store entrances with artistic marquis.

The architects of the city, it is understood, are divided on the question as to what would be the proper limits to the construction of marquis. Some are inclined to stand by the Municipal Art commission, which, according to past utterances on the subject, would, if it could, confine the marquis to public buildings, theaters and hotels. Others would allow much greater latitude. Albert C. Martin, president of the Southern California Association of Architects, who will appear at the hearing, stated that he would recommend that the question be referred to the Building Ordinance Commission.

"We do not consider it reasonable or fair that we should be forbidden to erect marquis on our new Broadway building," said Hulet C. Merritt, Jr., one of the officers of the Spring Street Company, yesterday afternoon.

"Every city in the country will look more metropolitan in every way when it comes into more general use of beautiful design and execution. They bear no lettering and have no suggestion of the commercial about them. The marquis, besides affording necessary shelter from sun and rain, can be made a thing of great artistic beauty, and there is no fall to see the ban on it. I am aware that it is so freely permitted over the sidewalks, and as everyone knows, fires in awnings are a common occurrence."

REALLY A NEED.

"The marquis is an established institution in all large cities," said Architects, who have taken up the street canopy. The merchant and the restaurant man have as much need of the marquis as the hotel man or the theatrical man. It is rank favoritism for the Council to rule otherwise.

The street is at a disadvantage when the marquis is permitted to shade his store entrance with an artistic marquis. No one can question the reasonableness of restricting the size of marquis.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF DEVELOPMENTS YESTERDAY.
 (At Home:) Cancellation of some large orders to sell stocks and commencement of gold exports to pay New York's foreign indebtedness were the main developments of the day. Foreign exchange became a little cheaper, as did short-term loans. Banking interests in the West were reported to show a tendency to increase their cash
 holdings in order to meet coming demands.
 There are prospects of an eastern syndicate
 financing a portion of the cotton crop.
 Wheat dropped from six to eight cents at Chicago, traders taking the victory of the allies as an indication of a quick peace.
 (Abroad:) Rumors that a large portion of Germany's new loan would be subscribed
 for by German-Americans were current.
 Considerable business is being done between London and Paris in American grain bills.
 (For details see the financial page.)

SEEING THE PARADE.
 Same old elephants, same old callopes,
 same old noise with plenty new babies and
 the same old joy.

SAME OLD STORY.
 A young clubman and promoter, accused of obtaining a large sum by false pretenses, has been captured in New Mexico and returned to this city. A man never travels far on that kind of money.

BELGIUM'S SURPRISE.
 It was Germany that was surprised, no doubt. The Kaiser's troops hardly expected any trouble from that little country in the beginning. They must have felt that their superior numbers and big advertising would get them across without a struggle.

SIMON THE JESTER.
 Having seen the circus ladies riding
 horses and training animals, you will remember with fresh pleasure the woman in
 W. J. Locke's bright romance. Locke allows the cat to spill the lady's beauty, but the hero marries her anyhow—which shows that he was a really and truly hero of the Locke stamp.

ONE HUNDRED PESOS TOO MUCH.
 Provisional President Carranza, it is reported, is about to issue an order prohibiting any person from having more than 100 pesos in his possession, on pain of confiscation and imprisonment. It is not stated that he will order that all persons having
 less than that amount shall have their funds
 replenished up to 99 pesos.

THE WAR IN PRINT.
 The war has succeeded in flooding the news stands of American cities with papers that will inform the natives of almost any kind as to how the best contest looks in their own language. About the only tongue slighted is that of American slang. Indeed a man was arrested in Germany as a spy because he went broke and wired to a friend
 a rather too picturesque appeal for assistance.

TIME ABOUT.
 A Democratic newspaper at San Mateo has declared for Fredericks for Governor in order to get rid of Johnson. It is no doubt true that many Republicans voted for Presdent Wilson in order to be rid of Roosevelt.
 If some of the Democrats feel the same way about Johnson it is no surprise. Many of them will realize that they cannot elect their own candidate and they will be glad to contribute their share to the big majority of Fredericks.

THE READ ARTICLE.
 A New York woman announces that she has discovered a peak in British Columbia 11,000 feet high which has never been mapped or explored. How much more sensible this was than it would have been to have gone to some malarial country of savages in South America to discover a river
 of doubt and then have nobody believe you.
 Our one regret is that, while she was discovering a mountain, she did not locate it in the United States instead of in Canada.

A CLEVER WOMAN.
 After having won many cases in the Supreme Court of Arizona Mrs. Mary A.
 Wupperman has been admitted to the bar
 of California on motion of a Los Angeles attorney. Mrs. Wupperman lives at Yuma and this gives her patronage on both sides of the State line. Her privilege of the California courts places her in a position to serve all her clients. She is one of the brainy women of her State who were responsible for the success of the equal suffrage movement there. She was friends for the cause, not by making speeches, but by the beautiful care she gives her two lovely babies in spite of the fact that she is her husband's law partner.

A CEREMONY.
 Dropping a letter is a big event. We are not talking about letters that are carried about in a man's pockets for a week
 and finally worn in his hat in order to reach the box, but the sort that are mailed with promptness and interest. Some letters receive much more care than others. We heard of a man once who always went to the postoffice to mail his letters to one girl
 and then stood guard on the building until they were ready for the train. All laughter aside, a lot of energy is lost in this world
 by people worrying as to whether their letters have carried safely or not. It might be added that more real grief comes from the ones that go straight than from those that are never written at all.

OVERSEAS—THE SITUATION TO DATE.
 The dispatches last night yielded some hints that the Germans have decided to abandon for a while the "retiring disposition" that characterized their adversaries
 in the early stages of the "greatest war on earth." The same thing was said of the Franco-Prussian war in 1870-71. It was the "greatest on earth." Everything is new to the new generation.

"The enemy appears to be making a stand on a prepared front along the River Aisne."
 For this bit of information we have the official French report from Paris last night to thank. "On the center, similarly, it would seem as if the enemy intends to resist on the heights to the northwest and to the north of Rheims."

Thus there may be more variety in the later dispatches from the western theater of operations. From the Eastern Wallonia
 one obtains and needs expect little variety.
 There the Austrians see white where the Russians see black, and vice versa. It is hard to sift the wheat from the chaff and the true from the false in the dispatches from that section of Europe. Later along the historians will tackle the problem; and as they will be prejudiced, as all historians are (and probably ought to be), it may be that no one will ever know the rock-bottom facts of the conflict between the Teutonic
 and the Slavonic races now going on.

England issued a denial yesterday that revolution has broken out in India.
 There are indications that prominent German-Americans have taken up the issue of peace with President Wilson; and Washington dispatches were hopeful that something solid may come of the overtures.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

The only parallel in effrontery comparable with the desire of "Progressive"
 bushwhackers to sit in the Republican convention at Sacramento today is to be found in their theft of the name on the Presidential ticket two years ago.

That the tricksters who registered as "Progressives" and through a subterfuge
 afforded by Holy Hi's double-barreled primary law secured places on the Republican primary ticket received timely notice that if they attempted to seat themselves in the convention they would be contemptuously fired out, will meet the approval of every fair-minded man of every party. The pre-tenders have no more right to seats in the Republican convention than Democrats would have, and only the Johnsonian type of "Progressive" gall would make so preposterous a claim.

The stand of Capt. Fredericks and his managers, taken promptly and unequivocally, has brought forth good fruit, and the off-color political heifers find themselves at the end of their efforts to usurp a good name. The convention will be organized today minus the discord the Johnson-Fin-Gallagher gang had planned to inject into
 it, and all Republicans rejoice this morning that a sane platform will be the result, and that no hypocritical "Progressive" sophistry
 will have share in its building.

From its birth the Republican party has stood for America and American fair play;
 for freedom and justice, and for protection of the American people. That California
 Republicans stand in line with the principles that make for the nation's life needs
 no reiteration. The Sacramento platform will ring true.

THE DIRECT PRIMARY IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

The possibilities of "moral uplift" which exist in the direct primary were never more profusely and elaborately illustrated than in an election held in Charleston, S. C., to fill a vacancy in that Congressional district caused by the death of Mr. Legare.

South Carolina, it will be remembered, is chuck-full of "moral uplift." It is the State whose Governor pardoned 981 convicts, mostly gentlemen whose ideas upon the subject of personal property differed from those entertained by a majority of their fellow-citizens, although there was a fair percentage among them of zealous persons who had felt it to be their privilege to remove from the scene of human activities those who were obnoxious to them.

At the first primary election called to nominate a candidate for the Congressional vacancy there were five candidates. Under the law of South Carolina a second primary
 was held to decide between the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes
 at the first primary. At this second primary Mr. Whaley received 6298 votes, and Mr. Hughes received 5763 votes, and at the subsequent special election Mr. Whaley received a majority of the votes cast and was,
 in due course, sworn in as a member of the House.

Mr. John P. Grace, Mayor of Charleston, some months afterwards filed written charges against Congressman Whaley, accusing him of corrupt practices and perjury.
 He excused himself for not prosecuting Mr.
 Whaley for perjury in Charleston on the ground that it would be useless because, if he should be convicted, the Governor would pardon him.

Mayor Grace charged that Congressman Whaley had corruptly expended $60,000 in bribing voters at the two primary elections.
 This charge Mr. Whaley indignantly denied and averred that his total expenditures amounted to only $44,583.10, and that his opponent, E. W. Hughes, admitted having expended $44,500. Mayor Grace charged that the 6298 voters who cast their ballots for Mr. Whaley one-half were bribed for sums ranging from $50 to $65 each and averaging about $59 per vote, while those who sold their votes to Mr. Hughes at the primary received an average of only $17
 each.

In support of the accusations against Congressman Whaley, Mayor Grace submitted
 the affidavits of thirty-five persons, the character and standing of each of whom the report of the Congressional committee describes as "very questionable." There was Humpty Rattles Hogan, the keeper of a dive and blind tiger. He admitted that in the first primary E. W. Hughes put $1200 in his hands and in the second primary $1000
 for the purpose of debauching the electorate, and that he spent these sums "by giving it to the fellows to pay them off." He retained nothing for himself. He said under oath: "I am not out for money. I am out for principle."

Another witness was Peg Leg Barry, who kept a blind tiger. A third witness was H. Leon Larisey, concerning whom an adversely witnessed testified: "His reputation is such that he could not be believed under any circumstances on any subject on any occasion, connected with life or death, the present or the hereafter." The Mayor of Walterboro testified that he had known Larisey for a long time and he had always borne the reputation of a crook and a swindler willing to do most anything for a dollar.

 Six of the witnesses who made affidavits
 of having been bribed to vote for Whaley afterwards filed counter affidavits stating that in their first affidavit they had lied,
 and one witness swore that he did not know
 what he had stated in his first affidavit, for he was drunk when he made it.

Mayor Grace himself testified that at both primaries the purchase of votes by managers of the different candidates was carried to such an extent as to be open and notorious and to come within the observation of everybody.

He said that at a small room near one of the polls one Simmons, an agent of Whaley, was seated at a table with at least $2000 in bills spread out before him, with a line of men in waiting upon the outside
 to be paid off for their voting.
 Mayor Grace admitted that to secure his own election as Mayor of Charleston he had expended $15,000, or $1000 more than his four years' salary. He said that his present attack upon Congressman Whaley was the offspring of his ardent desire to purify elections, but he was hampered to some extent by his own culpability.
 Short of all the matters relevant and irrelevant testified to by thirty-five witnesses before the Congressional committee,
 the naked, ugly fact remains, admitted by both parties to the controversy, that at a primary election in the Charleston (S. C.)
 district involving only the election of a member of Congress, at which election 11, 960 votes were cast, the enormous sum of $99,083.10 was expended in buying votes.

Realizing they could not have done worse "way down South in the land of cotton" if they had adhered to the convention system and not adopted what Gov.
 Johnson calls "the rainbow of promise"—
 the direct primary.

LET THE DEMOCRATS UNDO THEIR MISCHIEF.

The sole reason given by the Democrats
 for revolutionizing the revenue laws and discarding the policy of protection under which the nation thrived for half a century—with one interregnum of three years
 during Cleveland's second administration—
 was that, by adopting a tariff for revenue
 only, they would reduce the cost of living
 to the consumer.

The result has not justified their promises and expectations. Even before the sudden and unexpected changes wrought by the European war the cost of living had not decreased, for the advantages of the new tariff were seized by the foreign producers,
 whether of raw material or of manufactured goods. The Argentine wool grower added to the price of his clip the difference between the tariff tax and the advantage of free entry into the American market. The Chicago meat king's established great packing-houses at Buenos Ayres and in Australia.
 They bought all the cattle offered, packed
 them and shipped salted and cold storage meats to New York, placing them
 there as cheaply as their Chicago product
 could be placed and charging the retailer
 the same prices as before.

The manufacturers of cotton and woolen
 and silk and leather goods in Europe added
 to their price the amount of the tariff reduction and the Canadians increased the prices of butter, poultry, eggs, fruit, hay and grain, the difference between the former tariff and free admission to the American market.

The war has the effect of a protective tariff in that it cuts off, for the present, importations from Europe of manufactured

 goods; but the war, in the nature of things,
 must, before long, come to an end, and no
 man is wise enough to forecast what industrial conditions will succeed it.

The Democrats exhibited their ability to back squarely down from their platform
 when they repealed the Panama Canal tolls exemption bill. They will exhibit great wisdom now if they will seize their free-trade tariff by the scruff of its neck and restore the Republican tariff which they repealed.

That might not add materially to the revenue from duties on imported manufactured goods now, but it would induce capital to re-embar in manufacturing industries and give to the farmers higher prices for their products without increasing the cost to the consumer, for the loss would fall upon the Argentines and Australians and South Africans and Canadians. That is to say, they would return to just where they were before the Democratic economists, who know no more about revenue laws than a chimpanzee knows about the mechanism of a watch, thrust their meddlesome fingers
 into the Republican tariff.

Good-by.
 [George Matthew Adams:] Sometimes
 it seems as though Life was nothing but a series of How-do-you-dos, Glad-to-meet-yous, and Good-bys. But I think that Good-bys
 are the ones in which the human world seems most touched.

There are many kinds of Good-bys. But,
 perhaps the main ones all come under these three: the Good-by to the one you hope you will see again; the Good-by to the one that you hope you will see again; and the Good-by to the one you know you will never see again, but whom you will always love to see again.

So that in Good-by there are Tears as well
 as Smiles, Hope as well as temporary Despair.

But in reality, to the great soul, there can be no real sorrowful Good-by. We human beings are so saturated with mere sentiment and precedent that we little appreciate seriously the aftermath of the meaningful Good-bys.

For myself, I can never be brought to believe that this life ends all. For in these present days we have Love. And Love has no death. So, for me, there can be no Good-by forever—no matter to whom or under what circumstance the Good-by is said.

So, why don't you join with me in making every Good-by the happiest, grandest Good-
 by possible?

FACTS FOR WAGE-EARNERS.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

The boss, first of all, hates to lose his good workmen, and after that he does not want to lose any of his boys. "The way to keep everybody is to give them steady work," says the Boston Wage-Earner.

"The result of the desire to keep the men
 was the adoption of the tactics of dumping as many accumulated goods as possible upon the foreign markets. This was accomplished by selling enormous quantities of goods at low prices and the beneficial results to our wage-earners were felt throughout the United States."

When the manufacturers found that home
 demands were satisfied and there was danger that the mill or plant would be forced to shut down, throwing the men out of work,
 and with the possibility that the best men
 might seek permanent jobs somewhere else,
 they would sell a big order in Canada or in Europe at a price which would only cover production cost. In this way the plant would be kept running, the men would have steady employment, and there would be no
 suffering from being out of work.

Under a protective tariff the home market would furnish enough business at profitable rates to balance the periods when the plant made no money under cost production.

All this the Republican leaders know, and so do the Democrats, but there has to be some big national political issue, and for years the Democrats demanded free trade or lower tariffs.

Every time the Democrats have rotten
 into power the tariff is attacked, with result, first of all, that the wage-producing tactics of manufacturing for sale abroad at cost have to be dropped by the manufacturers.

At once the factory and the worker feel the loss of employment. Then the freight handlers and railroad men of all classes feel the curtailment of shipments, and thus a Democratic tariff wrecks the carefully-balanced works by means of which the big plants run steadily to the workers' benefit.

Close upon the heels of the work and wages furnished by "cost production" comes loss of work and wages because of the direct importation into the United States of millions of dollars' worth of foreign-made goods, due to lowering the protective tariff rates, and once more curtailment is forced upon the manufacturers.

The tariff should be taken out of politics
 (this was the plan of ex-President Taft with his tariff board, abolished by the Democrats), and as long as it is a matter of politics the wage-earners of the country should elect only those who will keep our mills
 and our factories running steadily.

Today the Republicans stand pledged to save the manufacturing industries of the United States just as soon as the electorate puts it in the party's power to do so. The Democrats will have their power on November 3 next by electing a majority of straight Republican Congressmen and Senators.

Now the Democrats openly proclaim that the tariff will be lowered even more. That will mean even less work and smaller wages
 than the greatly-reduced amount of today.

The Times joins with the Boston Wage-Earner in urging its voting readers to vote
 only for those who stand for the United States and millions of wage-earners against the world, and thus vote against those who foreign instincts lead them to be willing to sacrifice the industrial future of our great nation in support of a theory of free trade
 which has always resulted in industrial woe,
 lack of work, lack of money, lack of food,
 and lack of that manhood which is the result of having money in one's pockets (or in the home and the savings bank) and plenty to eat, wear and enjoy.

BELGIUM.

By George Fitch.

Belgium, which has lately surprised the world by holding Germany with all the fury of a 111-pound quarter tackling a Percheron full-back, is an enlarged wheat field into which 7,000,000 people have been stuffed by industry and an entire lack of rain.

Belgium is no bigger than a Congressional district in Kansas and an energetic automobile can cross it in two hours. But it is one of the busiest spots on the globe.
 It exports $400,000,000 worth of goods each year and raises almost enough produce on its corner lot farms and pocket gardens to feed its population. Every one works in Belgium. Even the dogs have to draw milk carts, though when a Belgian farmer has a valuable dog he does not risk the dog in the street. He makes his wife draw the cart.

Belgium is a monarchy, but it is not as about it as it was when old Leopold II was king. The thespians of Europe, the Belgians vote profusely and send representatives to their magnificent Capitol at Brussels, but they are not noted as scholars. Almost 80 per cent. of them have neglected to learn to read and write. But at coaxing vegetables out of the ground
 few nations can compare with them.

He views the pile of printed ink, in covers made of cloth or leather, that he must claims the heartick book reviewer. The same old junk, in gorgeous lids, the same

 ers new, who make their bids for fame by imitating others, the melodrama man and

 "Won't someone cure my aching head?"
 exclaims the wearied book reviewer. The body of verse that breaks the heart, with halting
 lines and doleful pitches; the novel, resolutely smart, that treats of idle rich and riches; the Kauffman type of ripe romance,
 that takes us through the slum and sewer,
 and makes white slaves of palled youths.

"God save us!" cries the book reviewer.
 And there is always Oppenheim, whose diplomats and dukes are dismal, and Austin
 Freeman, who in crime, is sounding duds
 that are absurd; the tired reviewer says,
 and the heap for something better, stronger,
 newer, and scans in vain, then goes to sleep—his job has killed the book reviewer.

Business Methods in Church Work.

Trinity Auditorium experts, their headquarters in the Knickerbocker building yesterday, planning a survey for one thousand new Sunday-school pupils for the first day in the new million-dollar church next Sunday. The women, left to right, are Mrs. R. L. Young, Mrs. J. L. Cooper (standing) and Mrs. Harry G. Bailey and Miss Elizabeth McMillon, who are directing the campaign.

System. CHURCH WORK ON BUSINESS LINES.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL GOES AFTER NEW PUPILS.

With a Thousand New Names on the list for Opening Day and Corps of workers working from Regatta Headquarters Begin House-to-house Canvass of District.

No Sunday-school of Trinity M. E. church, South, opened headquarters in the basement floor of the Knickerbocker building yesterday for a canvass for 1000 new pupils for the first day in the new $1,000,000 Trinity Auditorium next Sunday. About seventy expert workers will make a house-to-house canvass in the district bounded by Hill, Fico, Benton and 10th streets.

Headquarters of the campaign. They are in charge of Mrs. Harry G. Bailey and Miss Elizabeth McMillon, equipped with a card index system, telephones and records for conducting a systematic and businesslike canvass. Each worker is required to make a daily report, which includes the number of homes visited, the number of persons who promise to attend the Sunday-school and the name, age and other personal data concerning each prospective pupil.

As an inducement to attend the Sunday-school, the persons named are told of moving pictures to be shown at the church, and of the many prizes for girls, the large organ for young men and young women, and of the many special privileges and special parlors, special treatment for all departments and a new trained teachers.

The reports received from the canvass for the first day indicate that the campaign will be successful. Mrs. Bailey said last evening, "It appears that there are many people in Los Angeles who are waiting for an invitation to attend church and are willing to come when it comes."

The workers, without exception, report that they were cordially received by the people. The best record for the day was made by a young woman who called at eighty homes and secured promises to attend Sunday-school from fifty persons. Her record was especially high. Excellent results were made by other workers. It is estimated that people in all walks of life will take a greater interest in church work when they have it called to their attention in a pleasing manner.

WHILE ON THE ROAD. While leaving the circus grounds at the corner of Main and 10th streets last night, Mrs. E. C. Castle, a stenographer, was struck on the head, apparently by a stone, and rendered unconscious. She was taken to the Regatta Hospital and subsequently sent to the hospital.

At Exposition Park. "GET TOGETHER" IDEAS UNIQUE.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL HOLD ANNUAL EVENT.

Members of the Body Will Be Given Fine Opportunity to Become Acquainted and to View the Permanent Exhibits and Those Prepared for the Expositions.

One of the best annual "get-together" sessions ever held by the Chamber of Commerce is promised for Friday night at Exposition Park. This is contrary to the usual custom of having a "get together" outing at one of the beaches. Invitations were sent out yesterday, and an attendance of several thousand is anticipated.

It is believed that by holding the session at Exposition Park, members of the chamber will be enabled to meet one another to better advantage and to become acquainted more easily, and also they will be afforded an opportunity to inspect the installation of permanent exhibits now being placed in the buildings and view those that are being prepared for the 1915 exposition at San Francisco and San Diego.

The "get-together" reception will begin at 8 p.m. A special programme has been arranged, consisting of a band concert, five-minute talks by prominent members, a recital of the poem, "California," by Col. Nathan Ward Pitt-Gerald; motion pictures of Yosemite in winter, and the Grand Canyon of Arizona, a violin solo by Miss Grace E. McCormick, as well as dancing. The State armory and the various exhibits at the park will be visited following the regular programme. Refreshments will be served.

Among the features of the exhibition will be a fine collection of the pictures in the art gallery. There will also be on display the prehistoric specimens excavated from the Rancho La Brea oil properties west of the city. Besides there are a large variety of specimens of California products.

Louis M. Cole, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is superintending the arrangements. Walter Raymond and John S. Mitchell are chairmen of the Excursion and Entertainment Committee, respectively. On the general Entertainment Committee are also Seymour Swartz, E. W. McGee, G. W. Lichtenberger and G. C. Johnson. More than one hundred Chamber of Commerce members are on the Reception Committee.

BABY EATS POISON. Toddlers about the house yesterday afternoon, 2-year-old Adele Yatsky of No. 2124 Kane street found a bottle of antiseptic, and learning that it was sweet, scooped up a portion of it and sucked it from her finger. When the mother discovered what the little girl had done, an ambulance was called and Adele was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where antidotes were given. The poison was called "Me Too" and had settled at the bottom of the bottle. To that fact the baby owes its life.

"CHICKEN" A LA MODE. A load of real "chickens" from San Francisco will arrive in town today and participate tonight in the first anniversary celebration at Harlow's cafe. It will not be an casserole, nor fried, but strictly a la mode, with a wealth of gorgeous gowns for the occasion. Mr. Harlow and Cabaret Manager Pomeroy spent a week in Frisco selecting anniversary day talent and souvenirs. Every table has long since been reserved and the programme arranged by Manager Van Pelt is scheduled to last from 6:30 o'clock till closing time.

LOCATED IN BERLIN. [LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] ALHAMBRA, Sept. 14.—Word was received today by Joseph Heinisch, superintendent of the Standard Film Works, that his wife and daughter, Miss Helen Louise Heinisch, who left early in the summer to spend eight months or a year abroad, were rumored in Berlin. The night of their arrival in that city Miss Heinisch was stricken with appendicitis and underwent an operation, from which she is slowly recovering.

Police Force Fined. (Continued from First Page.) Trustees ask Ott for his star, but a canvass of the board from Mayor Billings down through the list did not uncover a volunteer. Trustee Roth shifted the responsibility upon Mayor Billings and Trustee Barnes, dubbed "Me Too" Barnes in the last city campaign, did likewise. However, Mr. Ott was induced to write a letter of resignation, which he did, making it effective in thirty days.

Since that time the City Marshal has changed his mind. He says he won't resign; that the Trustees can't make him resign, and that the people of Arcadia will have to recall him if they want him out of the job. The Board of Trustees has put aside all thought of a coming bond issue to arbitrate the controversy over the Marshal.

CENTURY COMPANY OPERA GRAND OPERA SEASON IN NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE] NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Grand opera season opened tonight with the "Romeo and Juliet" in English, by the Century Opera company.

A war, which sent most of the singers to military service, and the abandonment of this year's Boston and Chicago opera seasons, did not affect the season here tonight, because the leading artists, the chorus, ballet, and orchestra, were all in the city. The opera was a success, and the receipts of tonight's performance will be devoted to the Red Cross war fund.

PIPAL AMONG THE MISSING.

U.S.C. Opens Today; Hundred to Report.

Glaze to Enforce Strictest of Rules.

Quakers Threaten to Give Trouble.

BY HOWARD W. ANGUS.

Lost—One valuable coach somewhere between North Dakota and California. Finder please return to Occidental College and receive reward.

Coach Pipal refuses to put in an appearance. Out at Occidental cases of bad nerves are developing. But from where the coach is for a space of three days and three nights has come only silence.

The coming of the coach is to start the ball rolling. Manager Kirkpatrick has been hanging around waiting to have the stamp of approval slapped on this little fixture and that. Capt. Sid Foster is stranded out in South Pasadena like a ship without a rudder. The old guard is getting anxious to lay their fingers and toes on the old mooring. The new men would like to get a taste of Occidental life.

Billy Edwards and Fred Thomson, who are to take an active part in the instructing of the freshmen, are more or less at sea.

Coach Pipal has written letters, but in all he has failed to name the faithful day that will land him bag and baggage on the new campus.

When he boarded the Limited in June, he said that he would forget football until the opening of college. Now the opening of Occidental is dreading down at a mile-a-minute gait.

U.S.C. Opens. U.S.C. opens today. Coach Glaze will have a monster squad on his hands this afternoon. When all the Trojans get properly enthused, and every man who thinks that he is a possibility shows up, the number should reach a cold hundred.

Much that has been done already will have to be done all over. The new men will have to drive the men on the little odds and ends of football.

The old men—those who have been working for two weeks—will have to be the shining lights. Falling on the ball, diving at the dummy, catching the forward pass will be done by them while the new ones will be supposed to stand around in open-mouthed wonderment.

Coach Glaze has called the pre-season work focusing around. He would not consent to call it coaching. He has hinted in a dark way that he will be a very different sort of a Glaze from now on.

So the new Trojan coach is apt to turn suddenly into a "Hurry-up Yost" sort of fellow and drive the men on the field. Not that he will be abusive. Glaze is not that kind. But he is not the man to take back talk or put up with fooling around.

This idea of practice is summed up something like this: "When on the field, keep going; do your sleeping at night."

The training rules will be strict. He told me that he would not put up with any breaking of rules.

When he strolled into President Boardman's office, his first request, which was granted, was "Write I order a man off the field. I want it understood that he is off that field for good."

So it will be football at Bovard field—nothing but football.

Quaker Menace.

The Quakers are practicing every night at Whittier. All reports from the siege camp glow with the promise of the Poets. The line is to be heavier than last year and the back field is known to be as good.

A strong line means everything to the Quakers. The famous "paper line" of last year, left the backs no screen to dodge from behind.

Coach Wilson is very encouraged over the outlook. He sees bright days ahead—days which he thinks will spill buckets of ink gloom on the southern shore.

Jack D'Aula is attempting quite a task Saturday. But undaunted by the reports from Whittier, he hopes to tame the Poets and from them take his first victory.

The clubmen are a strong combination. They will give the south its first line on the Quakers and incidentally on themselves.

DARLING WINS. Darling defeated Holladay at the Brunkville billiard last night in the three-cushion handicap tournament, 37 to 26 in 103 innings. Darling's high run was four, and Holladay's three. Both men were playing at 35.

TRY-OUT MEET CALLED OFF.

Bob Weaver has called off the try-out for the Fresno meet. He could not get enough athletes to sign up for the try-out, owing to the men being engaged in such things as football and the like.

Weaver will select ten men besides the two Indian long-distance men, and send them north as the southern team.

They will be selected from among the following: Harry Kirkpatrick, Fred Thomson, Bill Annin, Johnny Cook, Fred Kelly, Fred Watkins, Howard Drew, Charlie Borgstrom, Ben Ward, Tipton, George Green and Larry Gillette.

CHANCE MAY STICK IT OUT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE] NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Mutual friends were busy today in an effort to patch up the differences between President Frank Farrell and Manager Frank Chance of the New York American League baseball club.

It was even intimated in some quarters that Chance would remain as leader of the team the rest of this season, and that he might even be with the team next year.

OAKS HERE FOR SERAPH SERIES.

CHRISTIAN'S CREW SUPPOSED TO BE EASY.

Angels Have Joined Themselves Out of Stump and Ought to Have Smooth Sailing With Commuters. Christian Is Getting Some Real Ball Out of His Men Lately.

Oakland has come south for a week's series with the Angels, who got very much the worst of a tussle with the Beavers, thanks to two umpires.

Christian's hirelings are supposed to be of a tamer nature than the crew of sluggers that McCredie hauls up and down the Coast. Cap. Dillon has every reason in the world to look forward to a very pleasant little week.

But the Oaks have been going at a fair enough clip lately. It has not been speedy enough to lift them out of last place or even threaten such a dire happening. Still, there has been a marked improvement.

Whatever slump the Angels were in, Sunday's double-header, which resulted so gloriously in a double victory, jolted them out of the Seraph figure to keep right on arguing.

THE TALK OF THE SHOWS.

Fritzi Scheff to Open in "Pretty Mrs. Smith."

Holbrook Blinn Explains One-Act Plays.

How Max Figman Mixed With the Bulldog.

BY GRACE KINGSLLEY.

Fritzi Scheff in the Oliver Morosco production of "Pretty Mrs. Smith" will open the new York Theatre, New York, next Monday night. "Pretty Mrs. Smith" will appear in Washington on Thursday night, and then will go into New York for next Monday night's opening.

Last night had been scheduled for the New York opening, but unavoidable delays necessitated the week's postponement. Manager Morosco will leave for Los Angeles the latter part of this week.

One-Act Plays.

Mr. Holbrook Blinn of the Princess Players, explained yesterday about his company's one-act plays.

Said Mr. Blinn: "Our one-act plays are neither dramas nor are they comedies. They are complete little plays, condensed, one might say, from two and a half hours in time to three-quarters of an hour.

"We obtain the best of the best, sometimes order them. More often, however, we select them from the plays submitted, and we examine several thousand a year. Yes, we get some very bad ones, incredibly bad, but also some very good ones. Sometimes they are impractical for staging, though otherwise good.

"The one-act play is perhaps the highest form of dramatic art, as the short story is the highest form of fiction."

Max and the Dog.

Max Figman, appearing with the Masterpiece Film Company, in "Hoochie Schoolmaster" had a great experience with a bulldog, a few days ago. It was in the scene where the bulldog grabs his carpetbag, and he is supposed to tear it loose, and throw it after the dog.

"Evidently Mr. Dog hadn't studied his part," said Mr. Figman, "because he didn't let go. I pulled and he pulled, and the harder I pulled the more determined that dog grew. He sure worried that carpetbag some. Finally one of the boys got the dog's hind legs, and we all pulled. It was the greatest little pulling bee you ever saw. After a while the carpetbag gave, and we went our opposite ways, that obstinate bull pup and I. But that brute had eaten up about twenty miles of film and a new carpet bag in the meantime."

Author! Author!

Charlie Chaplin is to appear on the stage Friday evening, at Loew's Empress Theatre, to explain about the writing of the scenario for the picture play in which he appears, and for which he wrote the scenario. If he can talk as well as he can pantomime, his speech should be very amusing.

Jail Birds.

Here's a new one in the amusement line: A quartette of long-term prisoners from Great Meadow prison, New York, will go to the Nevada State Fair, where Warden William Homer is allowing this as a reward to a recent inmate movement in prison reform.

Expensive Repertoire.

"Help Wanted" was to have been produced September 1, at the Garrick, London, by Arthur Boucher, and Jack Lait was eagerly watching for the result. That was the last of it. Last week, as Mr. Lait could get no answer to his numerous cable inquiries, he finally sent a peppery one: "Does 'Help Wanted' go on to-day? Better hurry up or you will have to play it in German."

Anyhow the censor company answered and said they could not get it past the censor. And Jack says that he learned therefrom that silence sure is golden, now-adays, anyhow!

Theater Closed.

It is said that every theater in Holland is closed, on account of the war. In Germany the Berlin Wintergarten, the largest music hall in Germany, is now a hospital.

Jack Cox, over at the Hip, contributed a little sensation not in the bill, yesterday, setting fire to his aerial platform, but nobody seemed to notice such a little thing, amid the general combustion, the audience apparently thinking it a part of the act. Further precautionary measures against fire will be taken hereafter.

MOTORCYCLE MUST REST.

Convicted of Driving While Intoxicated, Owner Must Walk or Use Street Car Now.

If Jack Toomey, 23 years old, finds his determination to forsake the hurricane deck of his motorcycle is waning, he will have a court order to buy his will power. Convicted by Police Judge Chesbro of driving a motorcycle while drunk, Toomey was immediately relieved yesterday when the fine of $100, with alternative of 100 days' imprisonment, was suspended.

More pleased was he when the court latched onto the sentence the condition that he walk or ride the street cars for the next ninety days and under no circumstances ride his motorcycle.

It was the recalcitrant nature of the motorcycle which brought young Toomey to the attention of the court.

The entrance of the "Wizard Prince" into the city is marked by a large procession around the arena before the stage. In this all the elephants, camels and horses are brought into use, ridden by men and women gaily decorated in flashy trappings.

The daughter of the king is beautiful and the fastest runner in the country. The man who will be her husband must outdistance her in a race. If he loses, his head is forfeit. Many have tried and lost. Her successes are largely due to the magic employed by her father.

Then follows a celebration of revelry and rejoicing in which all joyously take part.

After this, fourteen other acts, embracing all the old-time features of the circus and many new ones, are given. Baseball-playing elephants who do their best to outshine Christy Mathewson, Frank Chance and the other stars of the diamond. There is an army of aerial artists to give a thrill, prestidigiters from all nations including the Mikado's royal Japanese troupe, bareback riding, some surprising acrobatics, and clowns and tumblers without number.

The side shows have a number of new freaks this year, including three dwarves under eighteen inches in height, a fat man resembling a hippopotamus, a new living skeleton and many others.

In the morning a street pageant was held which was witnessed by many thousands of persons.

DUKE ENTERTAINS BALBOA WITH SURF BOARD STUNTS.

BY E. D. SEWARD.

Secretary of South Coast Yacht Club.

Duke Kahanamoku, the world's champion short-distance swimmer, amused several hundred spectators at Balboa Sunday afternoon by riding the breakers at a harbor entrance in true Hawaiian fashion, both on a surf board and in a canoe.

The occasion of the exhibition was a land cruise of the South Coast Yacht Club to its station "A" at East Newport, where a ball was given at the clubhouse on Saturday night.

Several launch loads of guests were taken to the harbor entrance by Port Captain Fred Beckwith, while from both sides of the entrance crowds gathered on the cliffs and beach to witness the performance.

From his body, they said, and two blankets were given him. They thought his actions due to being deprived of alcohol.

When the prisoner tore up the blankets which had been furnished him, Dr. A. E. Roome was called from the Receiving Hospital. Dr. Roome testified that Strauss was on his way to the County Hospital within an hour after his examination of the prisoner.

WILD CLASSIFY LANDS.

Government Experts Soon to Resume Search for Farming Lands in the Forest Reserves.

The work of classifying lands in the Angeles National Forest that have not been passed on by experts of the Agricultural Department will be resumed this winter, according to information received yesterday by Supervisor Charlton.

So far but two projects have been completed, the Cajon and Tehuanga, in all about 250,000 acres, and the percentage of land suitable for agricultural purposes is very small. There are yet about 1,000,000 acres in the local reserve area that are known to be passed on.

Three experts will soon be here to begin work. Under the new programme of classification, a small force can clean up a large area. Not all of the land is examined, but only that likely to be good for farming purposes. There are vast areas in the local reserve that are known to be worthless, and these will be passed by. Under the old order it was necessary to examine these.

It is intended also to classify the land in the Cleveland and Santa Barbara reserves, but a small body of land in both of these areas having been passed upon by competent authorities.

Contributing Causes.
[Editor and Publisher:] An editor who started about twenty years ago with only 15 cents is now worth about $100,000. His accumulation of wealth is owing to his frugality, good habits, strict attention to business and the fact that an uncle died and left him the sum of $99,999.

DANCING GIRLS ARENA QUEENS.

"Spectacle" Assumes First Place in Circus.

Winter Garden Production Is Under Canvas.

Popcorn, Clowns and Former Favorites Survive.

The circus is changing. While all the old-time glitters, the peanuts, popcorn, red lemonade, spicelers and dancing bands are still to be enjoyed, the staid and magnificent spectacles is taking first place. Within the last few years this element has been so developed that today the main feature of the Barnum & Bailey circus, playing here today and tomorrow, at Washington and Main streets, is "The Wizard Prince of Arabia," a fairy romance staged last winter at Madison Square Garden in New York.

In its production 1400 characters are used, including 350 ballet girls in the largest dancing scene ever witnessed in Los Angeles. Special music, typical of the Orient, is played throughout, giving a weird effect.

The theme of the story is taken from the old tales of the East and developed until it has a plot dealing with skill in magic displayed by two monarchs in a war of mysticism for the daughter of one, who is sought in marriage by the other, the prince.

Unlike the tent show of bygone days, the performance opens with the appearance on the stage of four priests to lend an air of mysticism contrasting with the old-time parade around the arena, followed by the tumbling of clowns and other merry-makers.

The action takes place in the magic city of King Babar, representing his place, palace grounds and garden in India.

The entrance of the "Wizard Prince" into the city is marked by a large procession around the arena before the stage. In this all the elephants, camels and horses are brought into use, ridden by men and women gaily decorated in flashy trappings.

FORESTRY SERVICE WILL KEEP EQUIPMENT HERE TO BE RUSHED TO WOODS WHEN NEEDED.

The frequency and extent of fires in the national forests of California, and the trouble caused supervisors in quickly assembling materials and tools necessary to successfully fight these large conflagrations, are about to result in the establishment in this city of a central depot of supplies, to be used in case of fires in the Santa Barbara, Cleveland or Angeles national forests.

When an alarm is given this material, consisting of complete cooking paraphernalia, stoves, books, axes and a thousand other items, will be quickly placed on big trucks and sent to the scene of the trouble. There are now four partial outfits in the Angeles Forest, in this city, San Bernardino, Pasadena and Sunland, but at neither the Cleveland or Santa Barbara National Forest has any preparation been made for the adequate handling of a fire. It has been estimated that with the proper organization it will be possible to get the proposed outfit to any accessible point within a very few hours after the alarm is given.

Pasadena. DASHES DOWN TO HIS DEATH.

Pasadena Man Loses Control of Auto on Cliff.

His One Arm Insufficient to Handle Runaway Car.

Gateman Saves Aged Driver
as Car Is Stalled.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
PASADENA, Sept. 15.—Losing control of his automobile on the steep Arbor-street hill, James H. Gaut, a prominent real estate broker of this city, was instantly killed at noon yesterday, when his car plunged 200 feet down to the rocky bottom of the Arroyo Seco.

Gaut met death within sight of his home, where his wife, Mrs. Helen Lukens Gaut, a well-known magazine writer and clubwoman, was waiting his return.

Despite the fact that he had lost his right arm several years ago in a railroad accident, Gaut was an expert driver, and as his car dashed down the hill he was seen to let go of the steering wheel and to reach for the brake, in a last desperate effort to stop the car.

But the machine went crashing through a wire fence along the bank of the arroyo, leaping fifty feet when it struck a sycamore tree, and dropped 150 feet to the bottom of the arroyo. Gaut was frightfully crushed, his face being almost unrecognizable.

The accident was witnessed by Miss Katherine White of No. 316 Arroyo drive. Sitting on her front veranda, she heard the car coming down the hill at terrific speed, and rushed out into the street in time to get a glimpse of the man's face as he was dashed to his doom down the embankment.

RAISES ALARM.
She notified the police, and neighbors conveyed the sad message to Mrs. Gaut. T. P. Lukens, former Mayor of Pasadena, president of the Pasadena Board of Trade, and father-in-law of Gaut, was one of the first persons to reach the scene of the accident. Gaut was 56 years old, and had lived in Pasadena since his marriage to Mrs. Helen Lukens Jones, nine years ago. He was one of the most prominent business men here. He conducted a large realty brokerage business, with offices in the Chamber of Commerce building. His home was at No. 388 Arroyo drive.

He was a member of the Pasadena lodge of Elks, the Board of Trade, Merchants' Association, Pasadena Polo Club, Pasadena Driving Association, and was president of the Pasadena Pigeon Fanciers' Club, being one of the greatest pigeon fanciers in the world, his birds being rated among the finest in the country. Before coming here he was in the service of the United States government as an assistant chief of the biological survey.

His mangled remains are at the undertaking parlors of Reynolds & Van Nuy, Coroner Hartwell has been notified, but the date of the inquest has not been set.

Besides his widow, Gaut leaves a sister living in Washington, and a brother in Chattanooga. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

SAVES MAN'S LIFE.
Joe T. Negro, the gateman at the Santa Fe crossing on Union street, saved the life of W. E. Canedy of No. 105 South Madison avenue, early yesterday morning, when he flagged a late passenger train as it bore down upon the aged man, who stood dazed on the crossing beside his stalled automobile.

Canedy, who is 72 years old, ran his big car through the gates after they had been lowered, and despite the fact that they were immediately raised, he was unable to cross the track, but becoming confused, jumped from the car and stood as if paralyzed as he watched the train coming upon him.

Looking from the window, Negro saw the train and the impending danger, and rushing out with his flag signaled the engineer, who stopped his locomotive within a few feet of the old man.

After the danger was over and the excitement had abated, Canedy turned to Negro and said: "Why did you put the gates down on my auto?" And Negro, a little rolled, retorted: "Why did you run your auto into my gates?"

No damage was done other than the breaking of the gate when the auto crashed through it.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SAN LUIS OBISPO, Sept. 14.—The Board of Supervisors has taken steps for the construction of a number of new bridges in the county. The old wooden bridge, 100 yards in length, at Miles Station is to be replaced with a modern structure, and a new bridge is to span the Salinas River near San Miguel. Several other smaller bridges have been arranged for.

San Diego. NEW GOVERNOR ON WAY TO CLAIM HIS OFFICE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 14.—Gen. Balzar Aviles is in the city today en route to Ensenada, where he says he is to take his office as Governor of Lower California. Aviles is accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Fortunato Tenorio, an officer of the Federal garrison at Ensenada. Aviles claims to have his appointment from Gen. Villa and denies that Melchor Vela has been appointed military Governor of Lower California.

Aviles and Tenorio will leave tomorrow morning for Ensenada. They came here from Mexico, where they were in conference with Gen. Angeles. All concerned seem anxious for peace, and it is understood that Aviles' efforts will be directed toward establishing a good feeling among the various factions of the peninsula and to effect a peaceful settlement and the appointment of Aviles by Villa. A wire sent to Mexico City two days ago by Juan A. Mateos, Consul here, and by Carranza, asking concerning the appointment of Aviles, has not been answered. He states that so far as he knows David Zarate is Jefe Politico at present.

POMONA SCHOOLS OPENED.
About Two Hundred New Pupils Registered, Many Coming from Other Localities.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
POMONA, Sept. 14.—The Pomona High School opened for the fall term this morning with a registration of more than 200 new pupils. There are about 200 new students, graduates from the local grammar schools and advanced pupils from other school districts in this and other States, the families having moved to this city to reside.

Principal H. P. Reynolds and his assistants have had a busy day. Next February many more students will enter the High School from the local grammar schools which will graduate winter classes, so that the High School total registration will then be brought up to 400 pupils.

The following teachers compose the High School faculty: W. A. Bartlett, I. W. Bartlett, J. W. Benton, J. C. Owen, R. A. Coverdale, P. B. Goodell, A. L. Hickson, A. J. Pirby, Robert Fromberger, C. E. ELECTION IS ILLEGAL.
Sierra Madre Loses Time and Money Through Omission of Several Pupils in Legal Document.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SIERRA MADRE, Sept. 14.—The issue of school bonds to the amount of $12,500, which carried at a recent election, has been declared illegal by the law firm of O'Melveny, Stevens & Milliken.

The omission of several words in the election call was the cause of this decision. The School Trustees have decided upon another election to be held October 14, and $20,000 will be asked for instead of $12,500, as the bids for the new building were inadequate.

Considerable disappointment has been expressed by local contractors who were fortunate in securing the work. Considerable inconvenience and an expense of several hundred dollars has been thrust upon the School Trustees signed contracts with several extra teachers. These contracts will have to be carried out. Arrangements have been made to rent the Women's Clubhouse for the kindergarten and domestic science classes. Jack Richey's automobile stage line received the kindergarten pupils to and from school.

School is to be opened Monday, September 21.

The Harbor. BRITISHER MAY CONTROL DOCKS.

Oil Company's Holdings Give Rise to Speculation.

Offices Consolidated After Harbor Absorption.

Wilmington Boy Is Killed by Falling House.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Sept. 14.—There is much speculation as to probable development that may follow the taking over of the management of the property of the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company by the Union Oil Company.

The offices of the company in the Wilcox building have been moved to those of the oil company in the Union Oil building, and a part of the office force from the harbor transferred to the city to assist in changing all of the records of the company.

While the Union has owned a controlling interest in the Outer Harbor company ever since the funds were advanced for the development work, the management has been in the hands of the oil corporation, with Capt. Randolph H. Miner as president. Capt. Miner is now in Europe, and it is said, will no longer be connected with the active management of the company.

The taking over of the management by the oil company is believed to be the first step toward transferring the control to a big English syndicate of shipping men interested in the British Union Oil Company, a corporation launched just before the European war to take over the control of both the Union and General Petroleum Company. The war, however, may hold up temporarily plans for a refinery on property of the General Petroleum Company at Point Firmin and a shipping station on the Miner fill.

CHILD IS KILLED.
Andre Hernandez, an 11-year-old boy, living at Wilmington, was killed yesterday. He was playing under a house that was being moved, and the building fell upon him.

PATROL SERVICE.
The necessity of providing an adequate patrol service in the harbor was again brought to the notice of the authorities today, when the Marine Mechanical Works reported the loss of more than 1000 pounds of finished brass, which was stolen by pirates operating from a power boat. Petty pirates and dock rats have been working unimpeded for months as the police have no patrol boat to give chase. The Chamber of Commerce will take the matter up at its meeting tomorrow night, and strong protests will be made to the Council.

MAYBE MURDER CAUSED DEATH.
BODY IDENTIFIED AS THAT OF
WELL-TO-DO BUSINESS MAN OF PORTLAND.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SANTA MONICA, Sept. 14.—A new angle has developed in the death of the man whose body was found floating off the long wharf on the morning of August 27, by the positive identification which was made by Hugo Fishbein, a Portland, Or., resident, who recognized the body as that of Frank Graichen, a well-to-do business man and property owner of Portland, Or.

Fisher told that he had seen the dead man on the morning previous to his death in Los Angeles, and

PREACHER FINDS GOLD IN WELL.

VICTORVILLE, Sept. 14.—
A rich gold strike was made today about nine miles east of Victorville, on Rev. A. S. Hill's ranch, in a well being put down for water. At the 200-foot level gold ore was found, and some large nuggets, assaying $300 per ton.

J. C. Stansel, a mining engineer, says this is a rich and valuable strike.

Rev. Mr. Hill says he had a premonition that something good was about to happen, as he was preaching his sermon last Sunday.

that at the time he had a check for $85 in payment of office rent in one of his buildings at Fort Worth. He also had plenty of cash, besides jewelry and a gold watch. When the body was discovered no valuables whatever were found. The police think that the foul play caused the death of Graichen. Fisher thinks that it was suicide. He viewed the body this morning at the Brown Bros. & Todd morgue.

George D. Kym, a friend of Fisher, also identified the body as that of Graichen and supported the story of Fisher. Graichen was 53 years old and had prepared quite an income for himself, says Fisher. He gave his address as No. 416 Grand avenue, where he says the dead man had lived. In his room were found papers which showed he was a member of the Eagles lodge in Tacoma, and the Moose in Portland. Correspondence showed that he has a daughter, Mrs. Fomeroy of The Dalles, Or.

The Sheriff's office is aware of the case and is investigating. The local department is working on the case of foul play, but as the body was found outside of the city it will have to be handled through the county department.

REFUGEE PRIESTS GIVEN ASYLUM.

EXILED CLERGY TO GO TO CHINA
TO STAY UNTIL MEXICAN SITUATION CLEARS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SAN GABRIEL, Sept. 14.—The refugee priests from Mexico, who, for several weeks have found an asylum at the San Gabriel mission, will soon leave for China, where it is planned they shall remain until the troubles in Mexico subside, and it will be safe for them to return to their labors there.

There are ten of the exiled priests at the mission who came to San Gabriel from the Plaza Church in Los Angeles, and all relate stories of hardship and bitter experience in fleeing in different disguises to this country. Among the refugees is Father Lazarus, who was one of three priests who did not work in San Gabriel twelve years or so ago when through the efforts of the priests the mission was raised from an inferior parish to a strong Franciscan settlement.

Residents are rejoicing over the assurance that for the first time in its history San Gabriel will soon be lighted by an electric system which will equal in efficiency that of any southern city of its size.

Through the persistent efforts of Mayor Daken and other prominent citizens a clear majority of the franchise vote in the city during 1913 came about through the discussion of providing Angelina street with ornamental lamp posts in the center of midway park. This plan will be followed in the construction of the work.

The deferred work of numbering the houses will be undertaken shortly in accordance with a plan suggested by City Clerk Stouffer. The Women's Chamber of Commerce will have charge of the work acting under the supervision of the Trustees.

SECRETARY DIES.
Harry G. King, age 37, died of a heart attack after a long illness at his home, 1111 Broadway, yesterday morning at 12:30 o'clock.

TRI-COUNTY COW TESTING PLAN.
CHINO, Sept. 14.—The Chino Cow Testing Association, a new organized branch of the California Dairy Bureau, which is making the expense of the public purpose of fostering the dairy industry of California, has followed the example of the dairy men of Ontario, I. A. Chino, Mrs. E. M. Bird, and J. R. Elliott of Arlington, and the Corona and Calver Puffer of the S. J. Ullery, president; L. A. Bird, vice-president; L. A. Bird, secretary.

The Tri-County Cow Testing Association was organized by the dairy men of the county, and is in charge of the testing of the milk of the dairies under the supervision of the California Dairy Bureau. The territory covered by the association is approximately 140,000 acres, and the number of dairies is about 1,000. The association has a capital of $10,000, and the members are represented by the dairy men of the county.

The object of the association is to bring about needed uniformity in the dairy business of Southern California. At a recent meeting in the city, the association decided to hire an expert cow tester who will have jurisdiction over the entire territory, and who will have the right to enter any dairy in the territory and to test the milk of the cows.

The present sight and sound of the day when the cows are milked, and the milk is carried to the city, is a sight to be seen. A record of each cow's milk is kept separately so that the quality of the milk can be determined. The association has a plan to make of making or losing money.

It is expected that the association will be organized, so that the dairy men will be as well as for the protection of the public. The funds for carrying out the plan will be secured by the dairy men of the county, and the association will have a member in each of the dairies.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Council yesterday approved the report of the Finance Committee urging every city department to hold down its expenses to the minimum and directing the Supply Committee to cut off every requisition that is not absolutely necessary.

A movement was started in the City Council yesterday to secure from the Los Angeles harbor the old naval vessel Independence, a relic of the war of 1812.

The City Council yesterday granted George W. Parsons, member of the Board of Censors of Moving Pictures, a ninety-day leave of absence, although advised by Assistant City Attorney Robertson that Mr. Parsons has automatically removed himself from office by being out of the city for sixty days without leave of absence from the Council.

The Harbor Commission yesterday took formal steps to secure back payment of rentals for tidelands from concerns that have been occupying city property at the harbor. Witnesses drawn from the First Brethren Church are expected to tell in a divorce suit brought by the assistant superintendent of the Sunday school of her alleged love-making with a trustee of the church. The husband has filed a cross-complaint setting up these alleged facts and naming the trustee as co-respondent.

MUST MINIMIZE CITY EXPENSES.

COUNCIL LAYS DOWN RULE FOR ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Tells Supply Committee to Carefully Scrutinize Each Request for Commodities and If They Are Not Absolutely Needed to Withhold Its Approval.

The Finance Committee of the City Council is worried over municipal finances and how the city is going to pull through the "dry" months until taxes again roll into the treasury. In spite of the fact that every effort possible is being made to hold as large an amount of money in the treasury as possible, the Finance Committee has discovered a tendency in many departments to overreach their expenditures their one-twelfth allowance per month of their appropriations.

The City Council yesterday adopted the report of the Finance Committee on this subject, which reads:

"Various departments of the city government are repeatedly asking for various commodities which are charged against the city fund of their department, and inasmuch as the finances of the city at this time are low, owing to the so-called dry month period, we recommend that each department be requested to minimize as far as possible their various requests for supplies, so that they will not exceed their one-twelfth allowance.

"Further, we request that the Supply Committee scrutinize each request made, and if in the opinion of the department can do without the said commodity that they withhold the approval of the requisition until sufficient funds are in the various departmental accounts."

An unexpected demand of the Power Bureau for an advance of $1500 per month, in order to carry on its work until the power bonds are sold makes the strictest economy on all other lines necessary.

HISTORIC VESSEL MAY BE GIFT TO CITY.

Steps were taken by the City Council yesterday to secure from the Port of Los Angeles the United States steamship Independence, now lying in the navy yard at Mare Island.

In a resolution presented by Councilman Betkouski, the Mayor is requested to enter into communication with the Secretary of the Navy, urging that official to donate the historic craft to this municipality as a mute but patriotic reminder of the naval conflict between the United States and Great Britain in 1812.

The vessel is desired to form the nucleus of a naval museum at the harbor. It has been offered by the Navy Department to the Panama-Pacific Exposition officials for exhibition at the exposition, but the offer has not been accepted.

The Independence is 185 feet in length, has a breadth of fifty-one feet six inches, a beam draft of twenty-one feet six inches, and a displacement of 3770 tons. It was appraised by a board of survey and appraisal at the value of $4000.

MUST PAY RENTALS FOR USE OF TIDELANDS.

Users of the city's tidelands must pay the city rentals, not only for future use but for the past. The City Council yesterday decided that the tidelands should be paid for from the time they were first used by the municipality. The Harbor Commission took formal steps to bring this about yesterday.

A resolution was adopted providing that all parties at interest be at once notified to arrange with the commission for the payment of back rentals and that they secure permits from the commission for future use of the sites they now occupy.

Among the concerns directly affected are the Pacific Electric Railway, the California Fish Company, the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company, the Southern California Lumber Company, and several smaller concerns.

The revenues from this source will run into thousands of dollars. Traffic Manager Matson urged the commission to take action on this line some months ago, but yesterday's move was the first formal effort of the commission to secure a settlement. Recently the commission was advised by the City Attorney as to its province in fixing a definite policy for the use of these lands, and the present move is in conformity with this advice. It is believed an amicable settlement will be secured from each tideland occupant.

RED CROSS FUNDS. COUNCIL DEFINES POSITION.

The City Council yesterday decided that at this time no official effort will be made to raise money for the Red Cross work. It takes the attitude, however, that at some future time, if necessary, plans can be made for an appropriation to the work.

The Council adopted the report of the Finance Committee, which sets forth that in connection with the appeal to the Mayor by the American Red Cross Society, which was referred to the Council, asking that this city show its sympathy and charity in making an appropriation to the Red Cross funds, it is well known that this city is well represented by almost all nations which are now at war, and that each of these nations has an organization in this city collecting funds for Red Cross work.

"It would be very difficult for the city to pro rate the funds collected," says the report. "We would therefore recommend that at the present time the city do not contribute to the Red Cross work as requested, but if at some future time there be need the city can then consider the request and make an appropriation accordingly."

City Hall Briefs.

Amendment No. 1 is again responsible for a pull upon the city treasury. The City Council yesterday authorized the issuance of a warrant in the sum of $13,216.07 in favor of the Pacific Light and Power Company in payment of a refund for license fees paid under protest of said license fees not prohibited under the above-named amendment. The City Attorney has twice ruled that the claim was a legal one, but final action by the Council was delayed as long as possible.

The City Council sent to its Public Works Committee yesterday the recommendation of the Board of Public Works that no excavations be allowed in the bed of the Arroyo Seco within 150 feet of any bridge, the same rule as now applies to excavations in the Los Angeles River bed.

For $100 in gold coin the City Council yesterday "sawed off" and awarded to the Pacific Electric Company a franchise for a double-track electric line from Sixth street and Ceres avenue, crossing Central avenue, as a part of the new lay-out for trackage to serve the new Arcade Depot.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday formally submitted to the City Council its offer to handle the city assessing and tax collecting for one-sixth of 1 per cent of the taxes collected.

Property owners on Moneta avenue yesterday filed a petition to the City Council asking that Moneta avenue, between Third and Fourth streets, be placed within the fire limits. They set forth that this street has been paved recently at a heavy expense and that it is the purpose to develop it as a good business street, but that several cheap buildings and shacks have been erected there, to the detriment of the property in general.

An important portion of the testimony in the divorce suit of Mrs. Alice Nease against Lloyd C. Nease will come from officers and members of the First Brethren Church. As the allegations are set out in the cross-complaint of the husband, naming George Gregory co-respondent, the members of the church were witnesses to the alleged facts.

In fact, Mr. Nease asserts, the love-making became so pronounced that January 19, 1913, a committee was appointed from the members of the church to wait upon the couple and ask them to discontinue their love-making or resign.

The prominence of the parties in church work adds to the interest of the case. Mrs. Nease is assistant superintendent of the Sunday-school of the First Brethren Church, Mr. Gregory is a trustee. Their work naturally brought them into contact.

He says he found Mr. Gregory at his wife's home late one night. The doors were locked and the curtains drawn. CHRISTMAS PRESENT. FATHER TO GET HIS SON.

Presiding Judge Wood made Franklin Saunders a Christmas present yesterday. The present, however, has a sting to it. Mr. Saunders has only a temporary interest in it, and the reason therefor is because the gift is his son, Francis Saunders, 14 years old, who was awarded to the mother by the court in 1909. Since then the boy has been in his father's custody at intervals.

Mr. Saunders came into court with a petition for the custody of the boy. He is a book-keeper and is heartily fond of the lad. Mrs. Saunders opposed the petition. She has made her own way in the world since the divorce proceedings, being a public stenographer. Judge Wood after a private conference with the boy, who spoke well of his father, decided to allow the boy to pass the Christmas holidays with his father.

The father also may take the boy every other Saturday, and during vacation time will be split. Mrs. Saunders has the custody of the boy, but the school is in session. Mr. Saunders is to pay a sum of money for the clothing of the boy until he reaches an age where he can shift for himself.

This court record winds up another chapter in the history of the couple. A feature of Mr. Saunders' complaint during the divorce proceedings was that Francis had been in the hands of a woman named Mrs. Saunders, who had been treated by a regular physician, being a Christian Scientist.
